

CENTRE FOR CONTEMPORARY FIQH STUDIES

INTRODUCTION

The Centre for Contemporary Fiqh Studies is formed for academic excellence, affiliated specifically with Kolej University Perguruan Ugama Seri Begawan. With consent of His Majesty Sultan Haji Hassanal Bolkiah Mu'izzaddin Waddaulah, the Sultan and Yang Dipertuan of Brunei Darussalam, the Centre for Contemporary Fiqh Studies started off as Centre for Familial Studies on 28th October 2015 and put its massive focus on the education in the sense of strengthening Islamic familial formation throughout the country. It carried out countless professional academic roles until its rebranding in August 2024 where the Centre for Contemporary Fiqh Studies was put as new label. Various function, role and focus were introduced as new baseline, guiding the centre towards a broader horizon and setting its foundation on research and studies of Islamic contemporary issues related to finance, familial formation and the other contemporary potentially related issue.

VISION

To become an ideal academic hub that carries out empirical research, in pursuit of producing professional scholars and Ulul Albab (Men of Wisdom), possessing expertise and that are proficient at educating the members of society in current issues.

MISSION

To produce holistically adept individuals who are competent in spreading and defending the authenticity of Islamic teachings based on the doctrine of Ahli Sunnah Wal Jama'ah, through the excellence of holistic Islamic teaching (the classic and contemporary) and high impact works of research.

OBJECTIVE

- To become a prominent hub for Fiqh related academic research, especially one that is relating to contemporary issues.
- To foster the culture of writing and research amongst academic members and intellect in the field of Contemporary Fiqh.
- To forge and establish collaborative relationships with stakeholders of mutual aim, in conducting research that is related to the Islamic Contemporary issue, in the national and regional levels.
- To advance as a hub of study that perpetually observes and assesses contemporary issues, in addition to progressing as provider of academic services to Brunei Darussalam as a nation.
